Hotel offers Snuba in 3-story aquarium

Waikīkī's Pacific Beach Hotel is offering Snuba — a combination of snorkeling and scuba diving — in its three-story indoor Oceanarium.

The hotel said the setup makes it easy for first-timers because no certification lessons are necessary, and safe because there is never a worry about rough water or bad weather conditions.

The Oceanarium is a 280,000-gallon aquarium with more than 450 fish and ray and 72 different species. Two guests dive at the same time, accompanied by an experienced guide, for about 20 minutes.

The cost for Pacific Beach Hotel guests is $45 until March 31 and $60 for visitors to the hotel. The dives begin every 30 minutes and are scheduled Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. until noon and from 2 to 5 p.m.
